WINNIPEG, April 24.

Drought in Western Europe is devastating crops.

The Red River is rising rapidly and there are fears of a flood.

Nineteen lives were lost by the collapse of a water break at Milwaukee.

Terrible storms in the Southern States. Snow fell in immense quantities.

The home rule bill passed its second reading by a majority of 43. All available votes polled.

Vicious riots have occurred in Belfast between Orangemen and Catholics. The police interfered and a regular battle followed.

More small-pox cases have developed in Winnipeg. A special meeting of the council is called for to-morrow to take steps to have the citizens vaccinated.

At the Sir John Macdonald banquet in Montreal Foster promised sweeping reductions in the tariff, but said the government would stand by the principle of protection.

LOCAL.

To-day's train left Calgary two hours late.

GARDENING began generally in town last week.

Friday was windy but clear and turning cool towards evening.

The ice began to run out about 4 p.m. The river will be clear to-morrow.

ALEX. McCLAY of horse hills was gazetted a justice of the peace on April 6th.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick has recovered from the injuries received by a fall from her horse two weeks ago.

Thursday's train had one car of horses, 1 car settlers' effects, 2 cars merchandise and two coaches.

J. C. POPE, chief license inspector of Regina has been made sole issuer of billiard licenses for the Northwest.

Not many passengers by Thursday's train crossed the river owing to the dangerous condition of the ice.

The Edmonton band is collecting funds to erect a band stand on the race course, to give open air concerts from.

The ice opened at the lower ferry on Saturday morning so that boats carrying passengers could run freely all day.

The high wind on Friday promised a storm, but it calmed down in the night and Saturday was warm with a light breeze.

In a raffle of a double barrelled shot gun at the Jasper House on Friday night A. Prince, M. L. A. was the lucky man.

A SPECIAL train arrived on Saturday with 5 cars of settlers' effects, 1 of implements, 3 of merchandise and 2 of buggies.

Snow has all gone from the open land in this district, but patches linger in the woods and on the north slope of hills. Plowing is commencing.

MR. JONES of Beaver lake is in town. He reports the roads almost impassable, and advises prospectors not to start out there for a week or two.

THE cases of scarlet fever which developed amongst the people in the immigrant shed at the railway station about a week ago have recovered. The disease did not spread.

The soft snow which fell on Monday evening last all went away by Wednesday and left the roads in a very bad condition. The graded streets have dried off, but not the trails.

J. W. TINGLEY, wife and family arrived from Amherst, Nova Scotia on Monday's train, bringing a car of effects. Mr. Tingley came on representations made by T. G. Hatchings during his trip out.

THE appointment of Messrs. Jas. McDonald, Edmonton, Frank Lamoureux, Fort Saskatchewan and Geo. S. Wilkins of Red Deer, as license commissioners for license district No. 8 appears in the Northwest Gazette of April 15th.

THE corporation has had men employed for some days cleaning out the gutters at each side of the street grades to let the water off freely. They have also taken some of the hump off the crossings and filled in on each side of the crossings.

SINCE Wednesday last W. Humberstone, who has the lease of the Edmonton ferries, has been keeping up communication by small boats on each side of the main ice at both upper and lower ferry crossings, until the ice opened on Saturday.

Winnipeg Tribune, April 18: A. R. Code, the immigration agent at Bay City, Michigan, reached the city on Saturday with a party of about seventy-five. The latter have gone on to Edmonton, and Mr. Code has already made about twenty entries for the party.

THE river rose a little this forenoon and cleared of ice between the bends opposite town. A small boat has been running freely since Saturday morning in the open water and the rest of the ice will run out in a very short time, but the snow cannot be put in until it has gone.

ORILLIA Packet: Mr. Robert Peters, formerly of Orillia and now of near Edmonton, N. W. T., has sent us a sample of the wheat he is about to sow. It is called the Colorado, was grown by Mr. D. B. Wilson, of Sturgeon River, and produced over fifty-one bushels an acre. It is a fine sample, light colored, plump, uniform, heavy and hard—certainly No. 1 in every respect.

H. Ross, son of John Ross, Indian agent at Saddle Lake, had a narrow escape from serious injury on Friday last. The horse which he was riding when opposite the Massey-Harris warehouse reared and fell backwards on him. Fortunately the pommel of the saddle struck the ground beside him and thus kept off the weight of the horse. Had the pommel struck him he would almost certainly have been killed. He is not much the worse.

FRESH beef is being shipped from Australia to Vancouver. It is said to compare favorably with Alberta beef, and will no doubt be a competitor in the B. C. market. While it may compare favorably with range fed beef it certainly cannot compare with grain and root fed such as is produced at Edmonton in small quantities and should be produced to an unlimited extent here, as it no doubt will be in the future. Unless we adopt the creamery system it is altogether likely that Australia will take the British Columbia butter market from us as well as complete in beef.

THE Prince Albert line is still in trouble. The train which left Regina on Monday reached Saskatoon on Friday night. Two engines went on Saturday to clear the track to Duck Lake, one went on to Prince Albert and reached there late on Saturday night with a broken guide bar. The other started back to Saskatoon but died on the way. A third engine was started from Saskatoon to her assistance, but a storm came up and she stuck four miles out of Saskatoon. She returned and has again started north with a crew to dig through to the dead engine at Oiler station, where the cuts 12 feet deep are full of snow.

A MEETING of half breeds was held in E. Brouseau's new store St. Albert, on Friday last to consider the question of scrip for half breed children born since 1870. S. Cunningham was chairman and Mr. Gairdner secretary. A. Prince, M. L. A. for St. Albert was asked to explain the purpose of the meeting. When scrip was given the half breeds in 1885 only those born before July, 1870 received it. This was held to be an unjust discrimination, and that children born since 1870 were as much entitled to scrip as those born before that date. It was now proposed to take means to press the claims of the half breeds to this scrip. A petition was to be drafted setting forth the case of the half breeds, copies of which would be sent to all half breed settlements in the Territories for signatures. The copies would then be collected and placed in the hands of eminent legal talent in Ottawa, who would place the matter before the government and press for a settlement. D. Maloney was called upon and explained the protest entered by the half breeds at the time of the issue of scrip in 1885, they then claiming scrip for the children born since 1870. Scrip was accepted at that time on the understanding that the children's rights would not be prejudiced thereby. H. W. McKenney also spoke in support of the contention that the scrip issue of 1885 was not final. S. Cunningham and Thos. Boucher also spoke. A fund was raised by each man subscribing $1, for the purpose of pushing the petition. The fund to be deposited in the Imperial bank and to be at the disposal of the following executive committee: John Cunningham, chairman; Mr. Gairdner, secretary; H. W. McKenney, treasurer; Members, S. Cunningham, O. Macgeau, O. Bellerose, B. Pepin and A. Prince, M. L. A.

Victor Chief is in color a solid black. Stands 15 1/2 hands. Weighs 1000 lbs. and when matured will make 1200. His disposition is all that can be desired. For beauty, style, speed and road qualities he has no superior anywhere. Although he has never been trained, he possesses a natural trotting gait, and action. Foaled June 17th, 1890. He was sired by Bronze Chief 1888, bred by A. L. Clapp Lodi Ohio, trial at four years 2:24. He is the sire of Bishop the champion 2 year old of the Maritime Provinces; record 2:47, who, after being six days on the train and sick with distemper defeated a large field of Upper Province Colts at Albert, Ontario. Victor Chief carries in his veins the blood of Belmont, Abdallah, 15, and the grand old father of American trotters Hambleton 10, the grand sire of the queen of trotters Nancy Hanks 2:30; Sunol 2:36; Arion 2:30 at 3 years old and Palo Alto, 2:36; Mand S. 2:36; and 1100 others with records from 2:30 to 2:54. FREE PRESS V.S. ALBERTA.

The Manitoba Free Press of April 18th, has an article commending the efforts of the Canadian government to bring people from the United States to the Northwest of which the following is the concluding portion:

"There is peculiarly about the immigration of the past season or two that deserves some notice. Of course we do not refer to that which has been promoted by the Manitoba government. Agents of the latter are expected to get settlers for Manitoba alone; spending our own money we are not supposed to labor for the settlement of the Territories. But why should all the Dominion and C. P. R. immigrants who come in be rushed off to the farthest corners of the Northwest?"

It is said in behalf of the Dominion government, and we are bound to believe, that no premium is put upon immigrants, but that on the contrary they are left to the freest exercise of their own action and judgment. For all we know the C. P. R. may do the same. But the fact is that ninety per cent, if not more, of all the C. P. R. and Dominion immigrants are settled at points far to the west.

We are not complaining of this because of the loss to Manitoba, but is it not a bad, or at any rate, mistaken policy in the interest of the settlers themselves? Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Washington, were not settled before Ohio and Illinois. Settlement in the United States began in the fringe of Atlantic states and gradually spread westward; there was no jump from Massachusetts to Minnesota. Here we are pursuing the opposite course: that is, we are permitting it, if not encouraging it. No man is to be stopped from going where he pleases, of course. If he prefers the valley of the Red Deer to that of the Red or the Assiniboine, he must be given the liberty to exercise his choice. But it costs as much to raise a bushel of wheat at Edmonton, say, or Prince Albert as it does at Brandon; but at the latter place it is worth a good deal more, because it is so much nearer to market. What is true of wheat is true of any other farm product raised for, or where price depends on, the foreign market. It follows therefore that farming in the far west, until new markets or new means of transportation are provided, must be less profitable than farming five hundred miles nearer the markets at present available.

That should be a consideration in the choice of a locality, and if settlers themselves are so thoughtless as to overlook it we do not know but it is the duty of these immigration agents to bring it under their notice. It is a great mistake to sprinkle our three or four hundred thousand of a population over as many square miles, and to permit a settler without protests so go off to some distant corner, away from the reach of a market except at the sacrifice of what should otherwise be his profits. Perhaps Mr. Daly might give this a quiet moment or two some day when he is not too busy with other things. We quite appreciate the reasons that may be offered against interference, but what are the weightiest of these in comparison with the good of the settler?"

There is a depth of reasoning and brilliancy of argument coupled with an utter lack of knowledge or regard for facts and disregard for consequences, contained in this part of the article that is worthy of the Free Press in these latter days. The disinterested solicitude for the highest good of the ill informed settler is very touching, and cannot have been instigated by the holders of scrip, mortgage associations or real estate sharks who cut a big figure in the financial world of Manitoba, even though the paper considers western settlement a "loss to Manitoba." The Press should have offered some argument or evidence in support of what appears to be such an absurd proposition that the settlement of people in Alberta is a "loss to Manitoba"—even though it says it does not complain of the alleged "loss"—when the whole article is so evidently intended to as far as possible prevent further "loss." What claim has Manitoba on these people that they should not settle where they please, and does not Manitoba as a matter of fact gain to a certain extent by every settler in the Territories no matter where located. It appears that because settlement began in the United States in the east and pushed gradually westward it should do the same here. But settlement did not always so proceed in the States and could not well do so here. California was comparatively well settled while the States between the Missouri and the Rocky mountains were still practically uninhabited. Why in the name of sense should people from the State of Washington west of the Rocky mountains, further west than Edmonton, be advised by agents to go eastward to Manitoba when the shorter journey to Edmonton brings them to the country which suits them better. The idea that the settlers coming from the United States to Alberta choose this district rather than Manitoba only because they have been ill-informed is decidedly rich. In all cases these people have come not on the reports or advice of agents, but on the information which they in former trips, or delegates whom they have sent, have personally collected. The reason they did not come in former years was simply because they could not get here, as the present railway facilities did not exist, and not because agents who used to tell settlers to go to Manitoba now tell them to come to Alberta. The Free Press knows that for a number of years preceding the opening up of the Saskatchewan country by the Regina & Prince Albert and Calgary & Edmonton railways the movement of people into the Canadian Northwest was very light, and as between Manitoba and the States the movement was rather from Manitoba to the States than from the States to Manitoba. Until the Saskatchewan country was opened up people were barred out of the most attractive part of the Northwest. It is not reasonable to suppose that people living in the exclusively wheat growing prairie States could see very much object in remaining to the exclusively wheat growing prairie province of Manitoba. But when with the opening of the Saskatchewan region, they were given the opportunity to exchange wheat raising on the prairie for mixed farming in a partly wooded

GENERAL NEWS.

The Calgary tannery has begun to turn out harness leather.

Spotted fever has broken out at Ellwood, Indiana, and is very fatal.

The New Brunswick legislature has ordered that temperance shall be taught in all the schools of the province.

The Alaska boundary survey party passed through Calgary on the 15th in charge of F. W. King. The party will be absent two years.

The Toronto Telegram sarcastically observes that some people who go to concerts scarcely know enough to refrain from encoing a gas bill.

The Lake Dauphin district of Manitoba is to be opened up by a railway shortly on aid granted by the provincial government. The line will be built from Portage la Prairie by the Northern Pacific.

Inspector Norman, of Prince Albert, and Inspector Howe, of Battleford, have been appointed superintendents of the Northwest mounted police. Sergt. Irwin, of Regina, will also receive his commission as inspector.

Winnipeg Tribune: A large number of immigrants arrived in the city on Sunday from England and Germany, and on Monday many of them left for their respective destinations, large parties going to Edmonton, the Souris district and other sections.

Calgary Herald: "Andrew Campbell, alias Dr. Lovingheart, again finds himself within the clutches of the law. The charge on which Lovingheart was arrested yesterday constitutes one of the most serious crimes in the calendar, and carries with it a life sentence. For some time past the police have had the doctor under surveillance, with the result that yesterday Chief English laid an information against him and he was arrested on a warrant issued by Alex. Lucas, J. P." From the Herald it appears that the Dr. was liberated on bail to the amount of $500, as the woman upon whom the abortion was alleged to have been performed could not be found as a witness.

The Winnipeg Tribune has the following comment on certain despatches regarding the lack of proper quarantine arrangements at Halifax. "These despatches are sufficient to indicate, what is fully supported by other evidence, that there is no adequate quarantine in Halifax. Immigrants in hundreds are landing there from Europe and set free to travel anywhere through the country; and we can have no certainty as to any of them that they are not dispersing abroad the seeds of plague. Cholera and smallpox exist to-day in many districts in Europe; there is every probability that among the hundreds of passengers landing from Belgium or Russia there are some who have passed through or come from those very districts. Yet, without any adequate quarantine, these immigrants are freely admitted. The incredible, the dastardly and criminal negligence of the Ottawa government, which is responsible for this state of affairs is hardly believable in any civilized country. The wretched parsimony and indifference displayed may be explained by the fact that it is only the public welfare, only the spread of an appalling public calamity which is at stake." Before the Tribune containing the above had reached Edmonton the natural consequence of the lack of quarantine had reached Winnipeg and will put that city and the province of Manitoba to many thousands of dollars of expense if nothing more.

EDMONTON BULLETIN APRIL 24th, 1903

AN OUTRAGE.

The news that small-pox has broken out amongst passengers from Russia by the steamship Vancouver on the way to Winnipeg and that some three hundred have been quarantined in Winnipeg, is news that gives ground for the greatest alarm throughout the Territories, not so much on account of the existence of the disease as on account of the manner of its importation. This disease has come not by accident or without warning but as a part of the new and vigorous immigration policy of the Canadian government, which has made special efforts to induce people from the famine, cholera, fever and plague stricken districts of Russia to take passage by Canadian steamers and Canadian railways either for our own Northwest or the United States; which insisted on bringing them in without proper quarantine and fumigation at Halifax in spite of the most vigorous protests of the mayor of that city. If Canada were involved in war with a foreign country and that country took such means of introducing fatal epidemics here the world would ring with reprobation of such a dastardly action. What then is to be said of the action of those who are charged with the well being of the country and who out of pure ignorance or inanity take such a course. If it were not a well known fact that continental Europe is rotten with cholera at the present moment, only waiting for the heat of summer to develop the poison in full force, and if it were not as well known that Russia is the seat and not the bed of the disease, there might be some excuse found for allowing this diabolical immigration of disease and death. But with the facts as well known as they are there is no excuse. There is nothing to be said. It is a providential mercy if this first ship load has only brought small-pox—which is controllable and preventable—for it has put beyond argument the facts of the case, and will surely cause a demand from one end of the country to the other that this importation of disease must stop right now. Last winter the Northwest assembly called the attention of the government to the necessity of proper precautions being taken against the importation of disease, and every newspaper and municipal body should now repeat the warning, or their negligence may cost them dear within the next six months.

TOWN COUNCIL.

WEDNESDAY, April 19.

Beck & McNamara enclosed an account for $74.12.

Finance committee recommended payment:

W. D. Matheson, $ 16 00
Beck & McNamara, law costs, 74 12
Reported paid treasurer during week:

Dray license, $ 5 00
Dog tax, 4 00

In hands of collector account taxes 1892, $6 60
McDougall—Strang—moved the adoption of the report.

Strang—McDougall—moved that the board of works be authorized to make such immediate necessary improvements as in the judgment of the chairman are required on the streets.

A petition from certain ratepayers was read asking the council to enter into an agreement with the Electric light company, guaranteeing their debentures for $10,000 payable in ten years with five per cent interest.

Strang—McDougall—moved that the petition and suggested draft agreement presented on behalf of the Electric light company be referred to a committee consisting of councillors Sanderson, Gallagher and Mayor McCauley, with instructions to bring in a full written report on the matter, and with authority to engage the services of any advocate they deem necessary.

The council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, with C. Gallagher in the chair, to proceed with the consideration of by-law 41. When the council resumed its sitting by-law 41 was passed on motion of Sanderson—Strang.

Strang—McDougall—moved that any one who has purchased a dog tag and lost the same may receive a duplicate tag for same animal on payment of 25c and satisfying the clerk that such original tag was lost; and that the animal be registered under a new number.

Strang—Sanderson—moved that the clerk advertise for the position of pound-keeper, applicant to state situation of the proposed pound, and that the pound or enclosure be to the satisfaction of the council.

Strang gave notice that two weeks hence he would submit a by-law establishing a fire limit within the town.

Strang—Gallagher—moved that the collector be authorized to have a sufficient number of forms printed of such tenor as he may decide, to send out re unpaid taxes.

McDougall—Sanderson—moved that the clerk be instructed to advertise for the purchase of debentures for $11,770.50 in the Edmonton Bulletin, the Winnipeg Free Press (daily) and Toronto Globe (daily) for three insertions each.

THE EXODUS.

Armstrong president of the young conservative club of Toronto, in addressing a meeting at Stratford, Ontario, recently in speaking of the exodus to the United States said: "I will try and give you the answer and solution, and it is this: We, in Ontario, are and have been educating the population to a high standard, and consequently we have a large proportion of the population who will not do manual labor; in short they will only oversee, transact business for, and professionally administer to the illiterate and labor classes. As we have not these in sufficient number they are forced to go to the United States, where they can obtain employment overseeing and transacting business for the raw, illiterate population that has been and is pouring in there from Europe. The solution is to bend all our energies to filling up the Northwest with emigrants from Europe and then the educated youth of Ontario would be required there as doctors, lawyers, ministers, clerks and overseers of all kinds and the exodus to the United States would cease at once." Mr. Armstrong's method of accounting for the exodus is correct in part. But the exodus of educated men seeking—and probably finding—a wider and more profitable field than circumstances admitted at home is something to be proud of rather than to be deplored, or prevented, as long as we can afford it. Unfortunately this forms a very small part of the total Canadian exodus of past years, and it is altogether doubtful if it would be good policy—if it were possible—to fill the Northwest with an alien and ignorant peasantry merely for the purpose of providing a field of congenial labor for the overflow of professional men manufactured yearly in the eastern provinces. The United States seems to be anxious to get out of that business, and Canada would be foolish to take it up. Why does not Mr. Armstrong look the exodus squarely in the face. It is not the loss of professional men or artisans that we deplore. If we had a suitable field for them we would not lose them. It is the loss of thousands of farmers and the sons of farmers for whom we have now and have had for twenty years a more suitable field than the United States—as the movement now taking place from the United States amply proves—that is deplorable, that should be prevented. It is a truly glorious national policy which for twenty years has allowed our own people, whom we had more than ample room for, to drift to the States, and now would fill the land they should be occupying with strangers, foreigners, aliens in everything but the desire to exist. As an intelligent conservative Mr. Armstrong must be aware that under the last ten years of conservative rule the exodus has been greatest, either as a consequence of conservative policy or in spite of it. As a logical man Mr. Armstrong should take one of three courses: Declare the exodus to be a good thing. Deny the existence of an exodus, or cease to be a conservative. To attempt to explain it away, in the face of the census returns is only foolishness.
